Postal Savings Bank Notice.

By authority of Section 11 of "An Act to Amend and Consolidate the Laws relating to the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank," approved on the 7th day of September, 1892, and on that day taking effect; notice is hereby given that the rate of interest on Savings Bank deposits is fixed as follows:

On amounts under and up to Five Hundred Dollars ($500), in Gold Coin of the United States of America, in any one account, already on deposit in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank on September 30, 1892, interest will be payable from October 1, 1892, forward until further notice, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, in Gold Coin of the United States of America.

On amounts over Five Hundred Dollars ($500) and not exceeding Two Thousand Five Hundred Dollars ($2,500) in Gold Coin of the United States of America, in any one account, on deposit in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank on September 30, 1892, interest will be payable from October 1, 1892, forward until further notice, at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, in Gold Coin of the United States of America.

On deposits placed in the Savings Bank after September 30, 1892, interest will be paid until further notice, at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum on accounts not exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500). No interest will be paid on accounts exceeding Five Hundred Dollars ($500), in single accounts, deposited after September 30, 1892.

E. C. MACFARLANE,
Minister of Finance.

Postal Savings Bank Notice.

By Section 17 of "An Act to Amend and Consolidate the Laws relating to the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank," approved on the 7th day of September, 1892, and on that day taking effect, the Minister of Finance is authorized to issue Coupon Bonds of the Hawaiian Government, to be styled the "Postal Savings Bank Loan," to be issued only to depositors in the Hawaiian Postal Savings Bank who may apply for the same.

The "Postal Savings Bank Loan" bonds are redeemable in not less than five nor more than twenty years, at the option of the Minister of Finance, and bear interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum, to be paid semi-annually, interest and principal payable in Gold Coin of the United States of America or its equivalent.

Any depositor with an aggregate amount to his credit in the Savings Bank, of not less than Two Hundred Dollars ($200) in Gold Coin of the United States of America, which shall have been on deposit at least three months, is entitled, on application, to an issue of "Postal Savings Bank Loan" bonds in exchange therefor, in sums of One Hundred Dollars ($100) or multiples thereof.

Applications will be received at the Postal Savings Bank for "Postal Savings Bank Loan" bonds from date until October 31, 1892, inclusive.

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

Pledged to neither Sect nor Party,
But Established for the Benefit of All.

TUESDAY, OCT. 18, 1892.

Minister Macfarlane or any other member of the Cabinet neither saw nor knew of any editorial or other matter in yesterday's BULLETIN until he read the printed copy.

The Advertiser says editorially, "The truth is for seven weeks we have been confronting a situation which is simply a repetition of the features of the pre-revolution regime." That is true but in quite a different sense from the Advertiser's use of it. It is true because for longer than that period of time we have been faced with the efforts of a small minority of a politically defunct party represented by Messrs. Thurston and Co., endeavoring by the abuse of constitutional privileges to force the Sovereign and the majority of the nation to submit to their will and accept a Cabinet of their nomination.

The Advertiser makes a distinction this morning between "dominant parties in the House and in the country." That is perfectly correct. The trouble is that the "dominant party in the House" attains that preeminence not as it ought to do by representing the "dominant party in the country," but by corruptly covert methods of persuasion. The "dominant party in the country" is that represented by the majority of voters, and unfortunately, through the peculiar tenure of Legislative authority under the present Constitution, the majority of the Nobles in the House feel themselves so independent of their constituents that they can, and do, vote in defiance of their constituents and thus make up the "dominant party in the House" of self-selected representatives of a numerically insignificant clique outside the House.

THEIR POSITION.

The native members who joined in upsetting the Cabinet gave their reasons as the following: They were against the registration bill. They were against proposed labor legislation. They were in favor of relaxing the segregation of lepers. They were in favor of a new constitution. The registration and labor bills were introduced for the benefit and at the instance of the planters. Yet the planting members of the House silently heard these measures of vital importance to them derided, and the Ministry condemned for having assumed the responsibility of the bills, without uttering one word or making one sign to show that they did not acquiesce in the attacks on the Ministry for those causes. Loose dealings with the lepers made one of the causes of the revolution of 1887. Yet men who were concerned in that movement utilized the native prejudice against segregation yesterday as a means of defeating the Ministry. It reminds one of the angry question of the Earl of Chatham, in denouncing the methods of the war against the American colonists, "Shall we associate to our arms the murderous tomahawk of the savage?" Who does not remember the pepper and salt rhetoric of Mr. Thurston in 1890 and again this year, as he denounced the supreme native idea of a constitutional convention? Yesterday he voted to expel the most tangible, or else one of the least phantasmal, of which was that the Ministry promised no support to constitutional tinkering. The Ministry has gone out partly on the charge knocked to pieces by the Minister of Finance, that it had no definite or declared policy to present to the Legislature. It is therefore proper to ask what sort of a consistent and practicable policy can be formulated or effectuated by any Ministry depending for support on the thirty-one votes that have retired the Macfarlane Cabinet. Answer will doubtless be made that the majority of the House being against this Ministry it should have been retired and the future left to take care of itself. But such is not parliamentary government. No set of men who have no policy of their own with a majority at their back to ensure its carrying out have a right or can afford, as representatives of the country at large, to associate to their aid a lot of diverse factions and overthrow a Ministry. The country will condemn them for so doing. This premier island has unmistakably, in the late special election, declared in favor of retaining the Cabinet just voted out by the Legislature. There is not the slightest prospect of any Cabinet that may be formed holding the support of the majority of the Legislature, either for the perfection of good measures or the defeat of bad measures. The measures on which the more intelligent and conservative elements of the Legislature combined, for placing the leading industry of the country on a footing to battle against adverse circumstances, are the very measures for which the turncoats who made up the requisite majority with the straight party opponents of the Ministry condemned the Ministry. Those who expect to secure office and party advantage from the overthrow of the Cabinet are among the ones who desire the measures in question. How are they going to secure them? Possibly by the desperate and disreputable methods employed to gain their original and main purpose—the defeat of a Ministry not of their political stripe. However, they have made their bed. Let them themselves now test its comforts.

Little Harry Merritt, the celebrated boot polisher, has arrived from the Coast and has resumed business at the old Union stand, Merchant street, and will be glad to see his old patrons.

ATTEMPTED ASSAULT.

J. W. Gibbs Charged with Shooting at Hon. R. W. Wilcox.

Shortly after 5 o'clock last evening crowds of people were seen heading for the Way building, King street. The general cry was that R. W. Wilcox was shot. Investigation elicited the following from an eye-witness: Hon. R. W. Wilcox, after coming from the Legislature, was talking to some friends near Fort street and left them walking toward his office, adjoining the Pacific Coast Home Supply in the Way building. Hardly had he reached the office when he was accosted by J. W. Gibbs, a painter. Gibbs, who was slightly under the weather, accosted Wilcox, and the latter with a sneer showed Gibbs away, who it is presumed fell on the ground in the mud. Gibbs, when seen, was doubled up; he put his hand in his left-hand pocket and drew out something. Wilcox caught him by the wrist and threw his hands down when a pistol shot was heard. Wilcox took Gibbs by both arms and led him off like a lamb headed for the Police Station. A few yards from the place Gibbs jumped into a hack and drove down himself. He was released under bonds. In the Police Court this morning he was charged with "attempting to assault R. W. Wilcox with a weapon obviously and imminently dangerous to life, to wit, a revolver loaded with ball cartridges." At the defendant's request the case was remanded until Tuesday next, unless sooner called up. C. W. Ashford will assist the prosecution; A. F. Peterson for the defense.

Too Much Ice.

"I wish," said an experienced physician to a writer for the New York Ledger, "that I could impress on my patients and the public generally the fact that food and beverages are sapping their thousands and tens of thousands in the large cities of this country every year. There are few things in which the majority of people indulge that are so deadly in their effects. Of course, things taste well, and no injurious results are observed immediately, but all the same the deadly cold is doing its work by sapping the vitality and entirely undermining the whole system. The powers of the human family are limited; and, as a natural consequence, when there is continual draft on the vitality, there must come a time when it shows signs of failure."

"Many of our recipes give directions for covering this, that and the other vegetable with chopped ice, pounded ice or shaved ice—anything to lower the temperature; or the food is prepared for the table and placed in the ice-box or on the block of ice until it is thoroughly chilled; and then probably coming in from the intense heat of a summer day, people sit down to the table and partake freely of these things, often eating immoderately, because it is so cool and refreshing, as they say; then deluging the stomach with glass after glass of ice-water or iced tea, they arise from the table with a long breath of satisfaction and declare that they feel so much better. Well, probably they do for the moment, and they never seem able to comprehend that when some hours after they feel overtaken and have a headache and nausea and blind spells, that they are paying the legitimate penalty for their over indulgence in such abominations."

"I venture the assertion, and I am sure my brethren in the profession would sustain me, that half of the diseases incident to the summer season are produced or aggravated by eating cold food. And it seems so hopeless to try to impress this on the minds of the people generally that I have almost given up in despair, and have concluded that, unless the sufferers are persons over whom I have authority, it is a waste of time to express an opinion."

A New Monster Engine.

New York, Sept. 12.—A number of railway men stood in the yard of the New York Central and Hudson River Railway on Friday afternoon and gazed with a good deal of interest at the new monster engine that stood there. This monster is designed for the Empire State express and it is expected that on a pinch it can make 100 miles an hour. The engine has drivers that are 7 feet 3 inches in diameter, which is 9 inches larger in diameter than any engine on the road. The large engine which drew the Empire State express to Albany daily had driving wheels 6 feet 6 inches in diameter. Among the other points about this engine that are interesting to railway men are: It has a six-foot spread and the cylinders are 19 by 24 feet, and the firebox is placed on the top of the frame. The length, including the tender, is 60 feet over all, and it is 15 feet in height. The engine alone weighs 60 tons, and 40 tons rest on the four drivers. This beauty, as it was pronounced by the men who saw her, was originally built at the Schenectady Locomotive works, but the large drivers and the other improvements were made at the Company's works at West Albany, No. 903—for such it is—will make its first run to-morrow morning. Mr. H. Walter Webb expects this new engine to do wonders, as it is the only engine in the world having double drivers of such size.

A Good Thing to Keep at Hand.

From the Troy (Kansas) Chief.
Some years ago we were very much subject to severe spells of cholera morbus; and now when we feel any of the symptoms that usually precede that ailment, such as sickness at the stomach, diarrhoea, etc., we become scared. We have found Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy the very thing to straighten one out in such cases, and always keep it about. We are not writing this for a pay testimonial, but to let our readers know what is a good thing to keep handy in the house. For sale by all dealers. "German Syrup"

For Coughs & Colds.

John F. Jones, Edom, Tex., writes: I have used German Syrup for the past six years, for Sore Throat, Cough, Colds, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best.

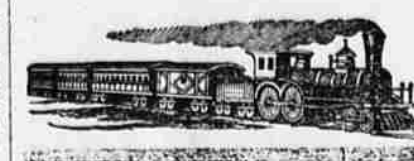

B. W. Baldwin, Carnesville, Tenn., writes: I have used your German Syrup in my family, and find it the best medicine I ever tried for coughs and colds. I recommend it to everyone for these troubles.

R. Schmalhausen, Druggist, of Charleston, Ill., writes: After trying scores of prescriptions and preparations I had on my files and shelves without relief for a very severe cold, which had settled on my lungs, I tried your German Syrup. It gave me immediate relief and a permanent cure.

THE PIN PUZZLE

There is a new Puzzle out. This innocent-looking brain tormentor is called the Pin Puzzle, and anybody can make one for himself with a bit of paper and pencil and six pins. Here is the diagram:

The object is to stick six pins on six of the black dots in such a manner that no two pins shall be on the same line, either horizontal, vertical or diagonal.

Although it may be difficult to work out this Puzzle, still there is no difficulty in understanding or appreciating the Policies issued by the EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY. They are clear, business-like, concise and simple.
